

Privacy Policy

We take the privacy of our website users and the security of their personal data very seriously.

This Privacy Policy describes the principles governing our use of the personal information you provide to us or that we collect about you. By using this website, you agree to this use. We ask you to read this Privacy Policy carefully. Any dispute relating to confidentiality will be subject to this policy, any data collection notices incorporated into this website and the provisions of Swiss law.

We may change our Privacy Policy at any time. We therefore ask you to review this Privacy Policy occasionally to ensure that you are aware of the most current version that will apply each time you access this website.

Description of the information we collect

Personal information

If you use this website or complete an online form that we have generated, we will collect personally identifiable information, such as your name, e-mail address, country of residence and any other information you voluntarily provide. If you contact us, we reserve the right to keep a record of this correspondence. By submitting personal information, you consent to our use of that information as defined in this Privacy Policy.

As for the automatic emails you may receive, you are free to "unsubscribe" at any time, a link to do so is indicated at the bottom of each email.

Cookies

This website uses cookies. A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that is downloaded to your computer when you access and use this website. The cookies used on this website are "analytical".

Analytical cookies collect information from visitors to our website to allow us to count the number of visitors and see how they use the website: this allows us to improve the way our website works. The analytical cookies used on this website are non-intrusive and only collect anonymous information.

How we use your information

If we have collected personal information about you (for example, because you have contacted us through the website), we will store and use that information in accordance with this Privacy Policy and any data collection notices we provided to you when we obtained your data, and in accordance with any applicable laws, regulations and ordinances.

By submitting your information to this website, you agree that it may be used in the following ways:

Your information will be stored in our secure database. We use appropriate technical security measures to protect your personal data and to ensure that it is not accessible to unauthorised persons.

Future communications from us

We will only contact you to provide you with information about our products, services or career opportunities or those of other companies with which we are a partner. As indicated above, you may at any time stop a communication in which you have no interest and unsubscribe by clicking on the link at the bottom of the email.

Access and corrections

If we process your personal data, you have the right, within the framework of the Swiss Data Protection Act, to request access to such data.

You also have the right to request that any inaccuracies in your personal data be corrected free of charge. You can ask us to change your information by sending an email to info@be-creative.ch

Please clearly indicate your name and your question, so that we can process it correctly and as soon as possible.

How to contact us

We welcome your comments and questions about this Privacy Policy. If you wish to contact us for any reason, please send an e-mail to info@be-creative.ch.
